INTEREST RATES AND FINANCE CHARGES

Interest Rates
The variable APRs on your Account are determined by adding a specified amount (“Spread”) to an Index (described below). The APRs are divided by 365 and rounded to the next highest hundred-thousandth of a percentage point to determine your Daily Periodic Rate. The Daily Periodic Rate is used to determine the amount of periodic Interest Charge.

Index for Variable Rates
Monthly Index Information. For each billing cycle, variable APRs are calculated by adding a specified amount (“Spread”) to the U.S. Prime Rate published in the Money Rates table of The Wall Street Journal that is in effect on the last day of the month (“Prime Rate”).

If the Prime Rate changes, the new APRs will take effect on the first day of your billing cycle beginning in the next month. An increase in the Prime Rate will increase your applicable Daily Periodic Rates, which may increase the Interest Charge due on your Account and may increase the Minimum Payment Due. Each time any APR changes, we will apply it to any applicable balances.

Introductory Cash Advance APR
The variable introductory Cash Advance APR applies to all transfer methods, balance transfers, Select Credit Checks posted to the Account within 45 days from Account opening. The APR is the sum of the Prime Rate plus 2.74%, 6.74%, or 10.74% (“Spread”) depending upon your credit worthiness. For example, as of 04/01/2020 these ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATES would have been 5.99%, 9.99% or 13.99% (corresponding Daily Periodic Rate of 0.01641%, 0.02737%, or 0.03833%).

Cash Advance APR
The variable Cash Advance APR applies to all transfer methods, balance transfers, Select Credit Checks. The APR is the sum of the Prime Rate plus 4.74%, 8.74% or 13.74% (“Spread”) depending upon your credit worthiness. For example, as of 04/01/2020 these ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATES would have been 7.99%, 11.99% or 15.99% (corresponding Daily Periodic Rate of 0.02189%, 0.03265%, or 0.04381%).

Overdraft APR
The variable Overdraft APR applies to overdraft transactions for deposit accounts. The APR is the sum of the Prime Rate plus 14.74% (“Spread”). For example, as of 04/01/2020 the ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATES would have been 17.99% (corresponding Daily Periodic Rate of 0.04929%).

Interest and Finance Charges
Interest and Finance Charges will be added to the applicable balances unless otherwise specified.

How Periodic Interest Charges are Calculated.
Periodic Interest Charges are added to the Account when we apply the applicable APR to the balances on the billing statement. We do this by multiplying the Average Daily Balance for each type of transaction shown on your billing statement by the applicable Daily Periodic Rate. We then multiply the result by the number of days in the billing cycle. Periodic Interest Charges will be calculated using the Daily Periodic Rate in effect on the billing statement closing date.

How Average Daily Balance is Determined.
To calculate the Daily Balances, we take the beginning balance for each type of transaction every day, add any new transaction, any Periodic Interest and Finance Charges, any assessed fees and charges, and subtract any payments and/or credits. If a transaction posts after the beginning of a billing cycle, but the transaction was initiated prior to the beginning of the billing cycle, the applicable Daily Balance and any related Interest Charge calculation may be adjusted to include the transaction amount as of the first day of the billing cycle in which the transaction occurred. If Returned Payments or a dispute resolved in our favor posts after the beginning of the billing cycle, the applicable Daily Balance and any related Interest Charge calculation will be adjusted retroactively to include the transaction amount as of the date of the original payment or transaction occurred. To calculate the Average Daily Balance, we add the Daily Balances for each day of the billing cycle and divide the total by the number of days in the billing cycle.

Paying Interest.
There is no grace period for any type of transaction on your Account. We will begin charging interest on checks as of the date the transaction posts to the Account, and on overdrafts and fund transfers on the date the transaction was initiated.

Overdraft Transaction Fee Finance Charge.
This fee may be charged each day an advance is made to pay overdrafts to your checking account up to a maximum fee of $10 per day. Waived for U.S. HSBC Premier and Jade Relationship Clients.

If you think there is an error on your statement, write to us at:

HSBC Bank USA, N.A.,

or at the address shown on your billing statement.

In your letter, give us the following information:

• Account information: Your name and account number.
• Dollar amount: The dollar amount of the suspected error.
• Description of problem: If you think there is an error on your bill, describe what you believe is wrong and why you believe it is a mistake.

You must contact us:

• Within 60 days after the error appeared on your statement.
• At least 3 business days before an automated payment is scheduled, if you want to stop payment on the amount you think is wrong.

You must notify us of any potential errors in writing. You may call us, but if you do we are not required to investigate any potential errors and you may have to pay the amount in question.

What Will Happen After We Receive Your Letter

When we receive your letter, we must do two things:

1. Within 30 days of receiving your letter, we must tell you that we received your letter. We will also tell you if we have already corrected the error.
2. Within 90 days of receiving your letter, we must either correct the error or explain.

While we investigate whether or not there has been an error:

• We cannot try to collect the amount in question, or report you as delinquent on that amount.
• The charge in question may remain on your statement, and we may continue to charge you interest on that amount.
• While you do not have to pay the amount in question, you are responsible for the remainder of your balance.
• We can apply any unpaid amount against your credit limit.

After we finish our investigation, one of two things will happen.

1. If we made a mistake: You will not have to pay the amount in question or any interest or other fees related to that amount.
2. If we do not believe there was a mistake: You will have to pay the amount in question, along with applicable interest and fees. We will send you a statement of the amount you owe and date payment is due. We may then report you as delinquent if you do not pay the amount we think you owe.

If you receive our explanation but still believe your bill is wrong, you must write to us within 10 days telling us that you still refuse to pay. If you do so, we cannot report you as delinquent without also reporting that you are questioning your bill. We must tell you the name of anyone to whom we reported you as delinquent, and we must let those organizations know when the matter has been settled between us.

If we do not follow all of the rules above, you do not have to pay the first $50 of the amount you question even if your bill is correct.
